4.2 Equality and Diversity

It is the policy of this Organisation to recognise people as a key resource required for successful attainment of the Organisation's mission. In support of this, it is important to remember that differences between people, whether derived from their different backgrounds and personalities, cultures and/or their different abilities, can be a source of strength to the Organisation.

Reasonable accommodation will be provided subject to such measures not imposing a disproportionate burden on the Organisation.

Equal Opportunities – This policy is in place to encourage a work environment free from discrimination.

Dignity at Work – Policies in relation to dignity at work include the Organisation's anti-harassment and sexual harassment policy and the anti-bullying policy. These policies have been established to help the Organisation provide a safe place of work free from harassment, sexual harassment or bullying, irrespective of an Employee's gender, civil status, family status, sexual orientation, race, religion, age, disability, or membership of the Traveller community.

See the Tennis Ireland Employee Handbook A1 Equal Opportunities and A2 Dignity at Work – Anti-Harassment and Sexual Harassment for further detailed information.

4.3 Violence and Aggression

Tennis Ireland will take all necessary measures to protect employees from acts of violence or aggression during the course of work and will act on any reports or complaints made by employees or other persons affected. The management will investigate any reports made.

4.2 Harassment and Bullying

This policy is designed to assist this Organisation in providing a work environment free from workplace bullying. The complaints procedure is in place to ensure that any Employee who feels that they have been subject to inappropriate behaviour, as defined in this policy, may raise the matter and have it resolved in an appropriate manner. This procedure is supported by the disciplinary procedure, which may be utilised where an Employee is found guilty of engaging in behaviour constituting bullying.

This policy sets out to ensure that the Organisation fulfils its legal responsibilities under the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act, 2005, with regard to workplace bullying. This policy also complies with the requirements set out in the Codes of Practice relating to workplace bullying.

See the Tennis Ireland Employee Handbook A3 Dignity at Work – Anti-Bullying for further detailed information.

4.3 Stress

Tennis Ireland will take all necessary steps to ensure so far as reasonably practicable that employees are not exposed to excessive stress levels. Employees must approach their manager if suffering from excessive stress levels, measures will be taken internally to relieve their workload and to identify the origin of the stress.

Tennis Ireland are committed to protecting the health, safety and welfare of our employees. We recognise that workplace stress is a health and safety issue and acknowledge the importance of identifying and reducing workplace stressors.

4.4 Pregnant Employees

Tennis Ireland will take all necessary steps to comply with the “Safety, Health and Welfare at Work general applications part 6 chapter 2 (Pregnant Employees) Regulations”, 2007.

A pregnant employee should advise the organisation of her pregnancy as soon as possible in order that measures may be taken to protect her health and safety at work and that of her developing child. In addition, mothers who are breastfeeding for up to six months following the birth of their child should also notify the organisation.

Management should identify those aspects of the work process that may place the mother or child at risk. Steps should be taken to remove exposure to this risk and if necessary relocate the employee for the term of the pregnancy. Every effort in terms of privacy, flexible work arrangements, and facilities should be made to facilitate nursing mothers.

4.5 Alcohol and Drug Policy

It is the policy of The Organisation to adhere to the Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act, under which Employers are obliged to provide a safe workplace for all Employees.

Employees, who are under the influence of alcohol or drugs at work, put both themselves and their fellow colleagues in danger.

No Employee should be under the influence of an intoxicant while at work. Employees who are suspected of being under the influence of drugs or alcohol while at work, or who are suspected of having alcohol or drugs in their possession may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

4.7 Welfare Arrangements

All employees will be expected to leave facilities provided as they found them and will not misuse any facilities on site.

4.8 Disciplinary Procedures

As per C1. Disciplinary Procedures in the Employee Handbook the primary objective of this procedure is to ensure that Employees are made aware of any shortcomings in their performance/conduct/attendance and provided with an opportunity to resolve this situation.

To this end, issues will generally be addressed through the informal procedure whereby the Manager will raise the issue with the Employee and agree a corrective action plan in order to resolve the situation without recourse to the formal procedure. However, where this fails to resolve a situation, or the informal process is deemed inappropriate in the given circumstances, then the formal process may be initiated.

During the formal stages of the procedure, Employees have the right to be accompanied by a representative at a meeting. The role of this representative is to provide support, to ensure that the procedures followed are fair, and, if appropriate, to help the Employee present their case. However, it should be noted that the contractual relationship exists between the Employee and the Employer. Therefore, questioning will be directed to the Employee, and where possible the Employee must speak on their own behalf. The stage at which any Employee enters the disciplinary procedure depends upon the severity of the issue being dealt with.

At all formal stages of the procedure the Employee is entitled to be made aware of the case against him/her, and to be provided with any evidence to be used against him/her. The Employee will be afforded an opportunity to respond to any allegations and evidence, and Management will give due consideration to all responses received. Representation is permitted at all formal stages of the procedure. The Employee is also permitted to appeal the findings of any formal disciplinary investigation or any sanction imposed under the procedure.

4.9 Equipment Certification and Inspection

Management will ensure that all plant and equipment brought onto the premises carries appropriate certification and will be inspected on a regular basis in accordance with the statutory requirements.

4.10 Purchasing

It is the policy of Tennis Ireland to take health and safety into consideration when purchasing machinery, equipment, goods or services, and to ensure that the required standards are met prior to such purchases being made.

4.11 Driving for Work Policy

It is the policy of Tennis Ireland to ensure the safety, health and welfare of all our employees who drive as part of their normal work activities. We recognise that driving for work does potentially expose other persons to risks such as fellow employees and members of the public and other road users. We endeavour to comply with the following legislations,

- Road Traffic Act, 1961 and all subsequent amendments,
- Safety, Health and Welfare at Work Act, 2005 and all subsequent and related regulations (No. 10 of 2005),
- Safety, Health and Welfare at Work (General Application) Regulations, 2007 (SI No. 299 of 2007),
- Relevant EU Legislation and Rules,
- European Communities (Vehicle Drivers Certificate of Professional Competence) Regulations, 2008 (SI No. 91 of 2008).

We have considered the risks from 3 key aspects,

- The driver,
- The vehicle,
- The journey.

The aim of this policy is to ensure the safety, health and welfare of all employees engaged in driving for work and all persons affected by this activity. Management commitment is continuous and ongoing, both in financial and time recourses.

The Driver

To this end, we will ensure that all employees driving for work hold a valid driving licence relevant to the vehicle(s) and tasks when they are engaged. These licences will be checked on a regular basis to ensure that all details are fully in date. Drivers will be made aware of responsibilities to themselves and others in terms of road safety. All organisation drivers are aware that the use of mobile phones without hands free aids is prohibited whilst driving the vehicles and that smoking whilst in company vehicles does constitute a breach of Company Policy. Drivers are responsible for adhering to road safety legislation as part of their driving activities. Drivers do have responsibilities for reporting organisation vehicles defects to management which may occur in periods between normal servicing intervals.

The Vehicle

All organisation vehicles will be maintained and serviced in accordance with manufacturer's instructions by reputable dealerships / persons. All work carried out will be recorded on the organisation Vehicle Reports. All required maintenance will be carried out based on need irrespective of cost or time frames. Where a replacement vehicle is used management will ensure that this is of equal or greater standard. Vehicles may be subject to random inspections to ensure that drivers are maintaining their vehicles on a day to day basis. Vehicle testing will be carried out as per relevant legislative requests whether this is NCT or DOE or other.

Employees and volunteers travelling using their own vehicles are responsible for ensuring that the vehicle they are travelling in is road worthy. This includes the maintenance and servicing of the vehicle, tax, test (NCT or DOE or other) and insurance. Tennis Ireland cannot take responsibility for the care and maintenance of private cars.

The Journey

Management will factor health and safety considerations into work journey and additional pressure exerted by unrealistic arrival times. We realise that the imposition of unrealistic schedules could place undue pressures on drivers which can result in disastrous consequences. Appropriate allocations will be made for rest breaks and our night stops where required irrespective of cost to the organisation.

4.13 Mental Health Policy

As an employer Tennis Ireland are committed to promoting and protecting the physical and mental health and well-being of all our staff.

Mental Well-Being is the ability to cope with the day-to-day stresses of life, work productively, interact positively with others and realise our own potential. When we talk about well-being, we are referring to mental well-being.

We aim to achieve this in many ways including but not limited to the following;

- Communicate the organisation's commitment to equal opportunities during the recruitment process.
- Provide guidelines and training for all staff involved in recruitment to ensure that candidates are not discriminated against at any stage.
- Make it clear in adverts and interviews that the organisation promotes good mental well-being and supports people if they experience poor mental health.
- We encourage employees to be more physically active by making provisions in the workplace for activity opportunities (including reducing sitting time where practical)
- Educate employees around safe alcohol consumption and the health effects of smoking.
- Promote awareness of key health issues for employees (including social and emotional wellbeing).
- Encourage employees to provide input into health and wellbeing initiatives.

- Avoid or minimise the spread of COVID 19 at clubs or within company.
- Enact specific control measures in place when potential cases are identified either in clubs or within the company

Key Control Measures

Tennis Ireland will ensure specific control measures will be in place to manage the spread of the virus within the company. These include but are not limited to the following:

Symptoms

A combination of good personal hygiene and self-isolation if symptomatic (even if fully vaccinated and boosted). Employers and workers should ensure that they keep up to date with and follow the current public health advice available:

COVID-19 symptoms can be like symptoms of cold, flu or hay fever. Visit the HSE webpage for the latest public health advice: Symptoms and treatment - HSE.ie

If you have symptoms of COVID-19 and you:

- Feel very unwell
- Have an underlying condition that puts you at higher risk of severe disease

Your GP may ask you to have a COVID-19 test.

Vaccinations

Vaccination has been shown to be the best protection from the health impacts of the COVID-19 virus. It is recommended that employers continue to promote vaccinations amongst its workforce. Visit: <https://www2.hse.ie/screening-and-vaccinations/covid-19-vaccine/>

Tennis Ireland encourage all employees to be vaccinated to minimise the risk of COVID-19 in the workplace. The decision however to get a vaccination against COVID-19 is voluntary and workers will therefore make their own individual decisions in this regard.

Hand Hygiene

Good hand hygiene continues to be a key control measure in preventing infection; therefore, it is recommended to continue promotion of good hand hygiene and for provision of sufficient and maintained facilities to allow this to happen.

Cough Etiquette / Respiratory Hygiene

Promotion of good cough etiquette / respiratory hygiene is still recommended. Encourage people to cough / sneeze into their sleeve or elbow, to avoid spitting and to dispose of used tissues appropriately.

All individuals need to take personal responsibility to advise Tennis Ireland Management of any symptoms immediately. HSE Guidelines on COVID-19 will be followed for all activities undertaken by Tennis Ireland.

This Policy has been developed by Tennis Ireland and is mindful of the best available guidance, nationally and internationally, and serves as a guide for the management of COVID-19. The actions set out in this document should be implemented in tandem with an amended Risk Assessment. This policy may be subject to change dependant on risk and Public Health advice.

7.1 Introduction

It is important that all accidents and incidents with potential for injury are reported to Tennis Ireland management and, where necessary, action is taken to prevent recurrence.

All employees and volunteers must report all accidents. Always preserve the scene of an accident/incident so that a proper investigation can be made.

If an accident or incident occurs while on the road Tennis Ireland management are to be informed as soon as is reasonably practical.

7.2 The Accident Report Form

The drills are the responsibility of the persons with fire and training responsibilities:

The following person(s) is the nominated Fire Warden(s) and has received appropriate training and certification, every centre/province will have its own dedicated Fire Warden

Val Krask (Facilities Manager/ Fire Warden for the National Tennis Centre)

8.8 Procedure for Identifying the Potential for Emergency Situations

Tennis Ireland has carried out Risk Assessments for all areas and activities of work.

Any issues of concern and non-conformance are remedied before being allowed to develop into a potential emergency situation.

All employees are trained at induction to report any hazards deemed to be of risk to persons affected by the company's activities.

8.9 Emergency Procedures for Dome at National Tennis Centre

General

The dome is not a permanent structure but is being held up by air pressure maintained by an electrical powered inflation unit. The dome has a backup generator which kicks in automatically in the event of a problem with the main unit.

Maintenance

- One fan must be on always
- Second fan to be switched on in event of a yellow weather warning
- Check perimeter of plastic on maintenance days for any tears
- Check if there is nothing touching the fabric from inside and outside
- Make sure to sweep leaves away from fans to prevent any potential blockages
- Check backup generator weekly

Risks

1. High Winds
2. Snow
3. The Backup generator fails to kick in when we have a mains failure. In this situation with no power and in high winds, the domes will become unstable and deflate within minutes.

Weather Monitoring

Weather should be monitored daily by the Facilities Manager at the National Tennis Centre.

Strong Winds

In the event of a forecast of strong winds the following actions should be taken:

- a) Ensure that the generator fuel tank/propane bottle is full.
- b) Ensure that the emergency door is securely fastened and that there are no excessive air losses anywhere.
- c) Remove all objects within 1 metre of the membrane, inside and outside.
- d) Lower the nets overnight.
- e) Turn Fan panel switch to 2 to ensure that both fans are running.
- f) Close of the court for play.

After the bad winds have passed, carry out a thorough inspection, equivalent to a monthly inspection, log all findings and report any damage. Ensure that all parts are restored to normal operation.

Extreme Weather Forecast

In the event of a forecast of prolonged heavy snow or storm winds in excess of 60mph, prepare to lower the dome. Check on www.met.ie to obtain accurate up to the minute forecasts.

Only lower the dome when wind gusts are below 5mph.

- a) Lower the net posts and collapse any mini-tennis nets.
- b) Move all internal objects (chairs, benches or de-humidifiers) close to the revolving door.
- c) If there is little or no wind turn off both fans, open emergency door and let the membrane lower to the ground.

When the extreme weather has passed, if there is no wind, the fans can be turned on and the dome re-inflated whilst continually checking that no cables are caught round the shackles.

Power Failure

Should a mains power failure occur the backup generator should kick in. Please ensure that the fuel tank/propane bottle is full.

Dome Collapse

Should the dome deflate overnight or begin to deflate due to power failure, vandalism or wind damage, take the following actions:

- a) Immediately lower the nets and move any sharp objects towards the revolving door to reduce the chance of further membrane damage.
- b) If the damage is too great to repair with tape, turn off the fans and let the membrane settle on the ground. Put weights on top of any torn areas to prevent wind from lifting the fabric and causing more damage.
- c) Inform Covair Structures and organise a welded repair.

Heavy Snow

If heavy snow is forecast, ensure that the standby fan is working and prepare to turn it on manually.

If a snow build up does begin to occur, then the following actions should be taken:

- a) Manually turn on the standby fan to raise the internal pressure.
- b) Attempt to physically remove the snow using long poles or by passing a rope over the dome and dragging it backwards and forwards across the top.
- c) If more than 20mm of snow accumulates, the nets must be lowered and all other internal objects moved towards the revolving door.

If the snow accumulation continues and the dome starts to collapse, the nets should be lowered and the fan units turned off at once. After the snow has melted and been removed, the membrane must be checked for signs of damage and repaired. If there is no wind, the fans can be turned on and the dome re-inflated whilst continually checking that no cables are caught round the shackles.

Membrane Damage

If a membrane hole is caused that is large enough to reduce the internal pressure and the rigidity of the dome, the second fan should be turned on and the hole repaired immediately.

Inform Covair Structures immediately of the cause, nature and extent of the damage and act on their recommendations. Send photographs to them where possible for their advice.

Dismantling Procedures for a Covair Airdome

1. Lower the nets and remove all articles from the dome.
2. If there is little or no wind, turn the fans off and help the air escape by wedging open the flaps each side of the fans and revolving door. In these places, ease the staples out of the wood or unstick the membrane carefully without ripping the fabric. While it is deflating, remove the wing nuts and strips that hold the fabric onto the sides and top of the revolving door. Free the fabric and screw the strips back onto the door.
3. When the dome is fully deflated, using sharp scissors, cut the three lengths of cord running parallel to the centre and two outer length cables. Cut each side leaving the knot on the cross cables for future location. Keep these 3ft lengths to tie up the rolls of cable.
4. With the exception of the four 3-way corner joins, undo all the delta links one at a time and remove the end and length cables. On the two end cross cables 1 & 21, leave the short cross cables connected together (including *colour coded no.1 cables). Hook each cloth pad onto each link and hand tighten.
5. Roll the length cables up one at a time without causing a twist in the cable and tie each roll with a piece of cord using a reef knot. The neater the roll, the easier it is during next erection.
6. Unshackle all the cables from the anchor eyes round the perimeter of the dome leaving the shackles hand tight on the ends of each cable.

7. Next, roll up all the cross cables with their shackles left on each end and tie. The two multi-part end and one centre cross cables are each rolled up with their delta joints and cloth pads.
8. Lastly, roll up all the colour coded end cables leaving the 4 corner sets of three cables joined. As they are shorter, these end cables can be rolled up two or three together of the same colour.
9. Once all the cables are removed and stacked neatly off the court, the wire clamps can be removed from the blue wire that knits the membrane to the anchor eyes. The wire can be pulled out, rolled up and tied. Store the clamps safely for use next erection.
10. Untie the membrane cord from the eyes either side of the revolving door and tie together to prevent the fabric from ripping when folding.
11. If using a trolley, place it under the fabric in the centre of one of the long sides. Using at least 3 people, fold the membrane in half, onto the trolley. If there is a slight wind, fold into the wind. Continue folding in half until you have a long strip around 7-8ft wide draped over the trolley but not overhanging the side. Standing 3-4 abreast on the trolley slowly walk down the folded fabric towards the corner to force trapped air out. Repeat this operation in the other direction. Alternately fold each end of the strip on to the trolley and keep folding alternately until all the membrane is neatly bundled on top without hanging on the ground. Tie securely onto the trolley with lengths of rope and roll into the storage area. If in the open, cover with a sun excluding tarpaulin to prevent overheating and melting together in peak summer.
12. If required, the clamps can be unbolted from around the base of the revolving door and it can be gently lowered onto its side and carefully rolled to a summer storage area.

Erection Procedures for a Covair Airdome

1. Clear the area of all obstructions and roll the trolley to the centre of the side it was when the dome was dismantled. Ensure any doors are bolted down in position.
2. Unfold each membrane section alternatively towards both corners until there is one long strip of fabric.
3. Using at least three people, unfold the fabric across the area until it is fully laid out.
4. Peel the fabric back from the trolley and roll it to the storage area.
5. Hook the cord at each corner onto the corner eyes and untie the two cords each side of any doors. Tie these cords onto the first eye at each side of the doors.
6. Pull the membrane until it is evenly distributed and central over the covered area, lying flat in the middle with the surplus gathered about 10 foot from each side. This ensures that the dome inflates evenly without wrinkles.
7. Check that the fans are connected and working properly with no obstructions on the inlet grill. Locate them in the correct places, pushed under the membrane with the edge of the fabric 2-3 inches behind the flap hinges and in line with the row of smaller eyes.
8. Using the blue hold-down wire and one person starting at each side of a door, clip the carbine clip onto the first small eye and then thread the wire through the rope loops on the edge of the membrane so that it passes down through a loop before an eye, through the eye, then up through the first loop after the eye. Repeat this procedure at each small eye and so on until the end of the wire. The small eyes are all about 2ft apart. Do not secure the membrane to any of the larger eyes as these are for the large steel cables. Take another piece of wire without carbine clips on and thread through as before but with a 2-3 foot overlap where they join. The corners are threaded as all other eyes except this is the only place where the cord stays looped over the eye before the wire is threaded through. When the whole circumference is wired down, the last two pieces of wire are overlapped and thread through the same loops to the end of the wires.

9. Using two 6mm cable clamps at each overlap, join the hold-down wire each side of an eye ensuring the clamps are tightened well.
10. Start laying the cables out with the two rolls of short cables joined together with the 7 cloth pads attached. The end cables that connect to delta links sitting on these pads are colour coded with bands of tape in a different colour for each corner. Make sure that the No 1 wires on each roll line up with the last of the row of large eyes that are evenly spaced 3ft apart down each side, with the colour band at the correct colour corner. Line the centre pad up with the centre of the covered area stretching the other pads out towards each side. With one person starting each end, lay the cross cables parallel to the pads, fix one end to the appropriate eye then roll the cable out avoiding twists in it and fix to the opposite eye laying the surplus wire in a big elongated loop.

Always put a dab of light grease or vaseline on the shackle pin thread before fixing to allow them to be hand tightened. Lay the corner cables in the correct colour sequence starting with the highest number (eg. 12 blue = 2 black & 2 blue bands) nearest the end centre angled outwards pad No C or E. Follow with No 11 blue from the next large eye towards the corner, crossing No 12 cable to the central pad and so on towards the corner. The short cables either side of the corner fix to a separate pad and then to the A or G main pad. Lastly, there are 1 or 2 cables between the corner and No 1 cable. Once all the cables are in the correct places, shackle them to the eyes and stretch them across the top of the pads to remove all twists. Then pull them to take up the slack and create a loop close to the eye with the ends touching the pads. There should be two end cables leading to each pad except the outer pads that have 5 or 6 end cables.

Next, lay 1 length cable from the main corner pad on the opposite side to the loops of cross cables to the opposite end pad, over all the cross cables fixing on each pad and stretch tight. On larger domes, No A, D & G length cables are in two halves with a join and pad on the central cross cable. This means that this cross cable will be in 4 pieces with the two central pieces measuring 36ft long. Now the cross cables need to be centralised. Starting at one end, pull the cross cables 2 at a time until the black band or previous cord knot on each cable lines up with the length cable. Now lay the remaining 6 length cables across from pad to pad.

Starting at the main corner pads, feed the cable ends onto the triangular Delta link in sequence, grease and tighten with a spanner ensuring all the thread is used. All the cables should now be connected. Next, 3 lengths of cord need to be tied to each cross cable in line with the central (D) and outer 2 pads (A&G) to keep them all 3ft apart. Ensure all the cross cables are lying evenly 3ft apart on the black bands on the length cables. Pass the end of the cord through the hole in the pad next to the length cable and tie it onto the eye using a double knot, then using a clove hitch, tie onto the first cross cable next to the previous seasons knot and work your way across all the cross cables to the opposite end pad, tying the end onto the other end of the same length cable. Repeat the process alongside the central and other outside length cables. This will keep all the cross cables evenly spaced when the dome is erected.

11. The dome is now ready to be inflated. First check all cables are connected in the correct order with colours in the appropriate corners, cable clamps and delta links are tightened. Turn on both fans. As soon as possible crawl under the fabric and arrange the flaps between and each side of the fans and in the corners to minimise air escape.
12. As the dome is inflating, have 2 or 3 people constantly walking round the perimeter to check that cable ends are not twisted round the shackles or caught on any fencing.
13. When the dome is 80-90% inflated, with one person inside and 2 people outside, systematically pull the cables into place so the side ones are all parallel and the end ones cross evenly. If the first and second cross cables get caught under any of the pads, send one person to each end of the cable and alternately pull it seesaw fashion to slide it from under the pads.

14. As soon as the dome is 100% up, turn off one fan and using 2 people inside the dome, fix the fabric to the door/s. At one side feed the bolts in the wood strip through the 2 layers of fabric onto all bolts, then push the bolts bottom first inwards through the holes in the door flange and screw on the wing nuts thereby trapping the fabric between the wood strip and the door flange. Repeat on the other side then gather the fabric in folds on top of the door to create an even bellow and nail a strip of wood through the layers of fabric into the cross timber on the door. This strip of wood is broken off when dismantling and replaced every season.
15. Staple the flaps of fabric between and to each side of the fans to minimise air escape and do the same on each side of the doors.

8.10 Off-site Emergency Procedures

Staff visiting tennis clubs as part of their work are required to familiarise themselves with the procedures of that club, including but not limited to evacuation procedures and other relevant safety procedures. Similarly, Branch/Tennis Ireland meetings may be held in Hotels/Conference centres and other off-site locations. Attendees are to be made aware of the facility evacuation and safety procedures and follow them.

9.0 Hazard Identification, Risk Assessment & Control

9.1 Hazard Identification, Risk Assessment & Control

All activities that need to be controlled must first be identified and described in full. All risk assessments relevant to Tennis Ireland are attached as a separate document to this Safety Statement (Document 02 Index of Risk Assessments – Issue 1).

Risk Assessments take into account all persons at risk not just the person involved with the work but all persons in the vicinity of the work area. The impact the organisation has on others influences the type of risk controls that may need to be in place. Risk assessments are carried out after any of the following,

- Near Miss /Dangerous Occurrence / Incident,
- Hazards highlighted by staff, visitors or contractors,
- Legislative requirements,
- Observations highlighted by persons affected by the company's works and persons interacting with the company,
- Best practise.

The hazards arising from the company's activities and the risks associated with,

- The company workplace environment (offices and Tennis Courts) ,
- The use of plant, machinery & substances during activities (Leaf Blower, floor cleaning machine),
- Poor work design or practices,
- Inappropriate management systems and procedures,
- Human behaviour of employees & persons interacting with the organisation,
- Identified hazards originating from outside of the work place capable of adversely affecting the Health & Safety of persons within the workplace.

Once the hazards have been identified and their associated risks then the company will quantify the risk by applying a rating determining the extent of the risk and allowing the company to understand and prioritise the more serious risks.

Management does not allow activities to proceed if the risk rating is found to be high or very high. Appropriate controls must be implemented to ensure the risk rating is reduced to a level or either Medium to Low. Management implements the hierarchy of controls when reducing risk to its lowest level. The following is always taken into account when trying to reuse the levels of risk,

- Figure out can the risk be completely eliminated,
- Figure out the risk be substituted,
- Figure out can the engineering controls be implemented,
- Figure out can administrative controls be implemented,
- Administer PPE.

When controls have been administered to the risks then the risk rating table is re-visited, and the risks re-assessed. The final risk rating must be of medium or low risk to allow the activity to proceed.

The company re-visit a risk assessment if there has been,

- A change or process occurs,
- A change in a workplace or a substance being used,
- Change due to legislative requirements.

Management understands that a risk assessment is a living document and needs to be revisited often. All documentation is revisited and updated annually.

Appendix E Guidelines for Sports Leaders, Coaches, Officials, Convenors etc. including Code of Conduct

Anyclub Tennis Club recognises the key role leaders (professionals, coaches, convenors, captains, selectors and team managers, etc.) play in the lives of children in the club. Club coaches, sports leaders and officials will strive to create a positive environment for the children in their care. They have an overall responsibility to take the necessary steps to ensure that positive and healthy experiences are provided. All Leaders will have as their first priority the children's safety and enjoyment of tennis and will adhere to the guidelines and regulations set out in The Code of Ethics and Good Practice for Children's Sport and the club's Child Protection Policy.

Leaders will respect the rights, dignity and worth of every child and will treat everyone equally, regardless of gender, age, disability, social class, race, religion, ability etc.

Leaders appointed by the club to work with children will have the appropriate experience and/or hold the necessary qualifications. Leaders will be expected to go through appropriate recruitment and selection procedures (ref. Appendix 5), whether paid or unpaid. Vetting procedures must be followed to comply with legislation. For those in the Republic of Ireland Garda Vetting should be successfully completed for all those with on-going contact with young people and in Northern Ireland all those working unsupervised in 'regulated activity, 'frequently' or 'intensively' must complete an Access NI enhanced check.

There will be a 'sign-up' procedure, whereby the appointed/reappointed leaders agree to abide by The Code of Ethics and Good Practice for Children's Sport and sign up to the Code of Conduct for Sports Leaders. Coaches and Sports Leaders should know and understand the club's Child Protection Policies and Procedures and undertake to abide by them.

Once appointed the Leader should act as a role model and promote the positive aspects of tennis and maintain the highest standards of personal conduct. Leaders should develop an appropriate relationship with young people, based on mutual trust and respect. Their behaviour to players, other officials and opponents will have an effect on the players in their care. They should report any concerns they have to the Designated Person in the club.

Being a role model

You will be required to display high standards of language, manner, punctuality, preparation and presentation. Ensure that players in your care respect the rules of the game. Insist on fair play and ensure players are aware you will not tolerate cheating or bullying behaviour.

Encourage the development of respect for opponents, officials, selectors and other leaders and avoid criticism of fellow professionals and coaches. Do not criticise other leaders.

The use of illegal drugs, alcohol and tobacco must be actively discouraged as they are incompatible with a healthy approach to sporting activity. Leaders should avoid the use of alcohol and illegal substances before coaching, during events, while supervising trips with young players and providing a duty of care.

Protection for leaders

Leaders are responsible for setting and monitoring the boundaries between a working relationship and friendship with players. It is advisable for leaders not to involve young players in their personal life i.e. visits to leaders' homes or overnight stays.

Avoid working alone and ensure there is adequate supervision for all activities

Where possible work in an open environment and ensure that physical contact is appropriate and has the permission or understanding of the child.

Care must be taken not to expose a child intentionally or unintentionally to embarrassment or disparagement by use of sarcastic or flippant remarks.

Physical punishment or physical force must never be used. Never punish a mistake by physical means or exclusion

A positive environment

Be generous with praise and never ridicule or shout at players for making mistakes or for losing a match. All young players are entitled to respect.

Be careful to avoid the “star system”. Each child deserves equal time and attention.

Remember that young players play for fun and enjoyment and that skill development and personal satisfaction have priority over highly structured competition. Never make winning the only objective.

Set realistic goals for the participants and do not push young players. Create a safe and enjoyable environment.

When approached to take on a new player, ensure that any previous coach-participant relationship has been ended in a professional manner.

It is advisable to get agreement from a parent/guardian when young players are invited into adult groups/squads. Boundaries of behaviour in adult groups are normally different from the boundaries that apply to junior groups/squads.

Leaders who become aware of a conflict between their obligation to their players and their obligation to the club must make explicit to all parties concerned the nature of the conflict and the loyalties and responsibilities involved.

Leaders should communicate and co-operate with medical and ancillary practitioners in the diagnosis, treatment and management of their players’ medical or related problems. Avoid giving advice of a personal or medical nature if you are not qualified to do so. Any information of a personal or medical nature must be kept strictly confidential unless the welfare of the child requires the passing on of this information

The nature of the relationship between a leader and a participant can often mean that a leader will learn confidential information about a player or player’s family. This information must be regarded as confidential and, except where abuse is suspected, must not be divulged to a third party without the express permission of the player/family.

The following is the Code of Conduct to be signed by all club Coaches, Sports Leaders and Officials. In addition all club Coaches, Sports Leaders and Officials will be required to formally sign the Code of Ethics and Good Practice for Children’s Sport Undertaking below.
